DBAG published solid Q3 results this morning, in line with expectations.

- Net result of investment activity increased to EUR 32.3m in Q3 (WRe: EUR 32.0m) due to positive valuation effects of peer-group companies. Income from fund management fees increased slightly to EUR 12m in Q3 (WRe: EUR 11m).
- As a result of the positive value contribution from the operating performance of the portfolio companies, net income arrived at EUR 45m in Q3 (Q3'22 EUR -32m), resulting in a NAV of EUR 678m (WRe: EUR 670m).
- DBAG now expects to reach the upper half of its recently upgraded FY 22/23 guidance of a double-digit percentage increase in NAV to EUR 610-715m in FY 22/23 and a net income of EUR 85-110m. Given that this forecast is based on stable valuation multiples of peer-group companies, the latest recovery in capital markets could create further upside potential for DBAG's earnings in FY 22/23e.

Conclusion: Overall, upbeat Q3 results reflect that DBAG should recover in FY22/23 considering the rebound in capital-market development. DBAG seems to be well positioned with exposure to attractive and non-cyclical sectors such as pharma, which should somewhat protect the company against an economic downturn, in our view. Additionally, positive effects were driven by the fair-value measurement of portfolio companies. In sum, the release fully supports our investment case and the company should be fully on track to reach its mid-term target of EUR 815-905m NAV by the end of FY 24/25. Hence, we confirm our Buy rating with a PT of EUR 49.0.

DISCLOSURE ACCORDING TO §85 OF THE GERMAN SECURITIES TRADING ACT (WPHG), MAR AND MIFID II INCL. COMMISSION DELEGATED REGULATION (EU) 2016/958 AND (EU) 2017/565

The valuation underlying the investment recommendation for the company analysed here is based on generally accepted and widely used methods of fundamental analysis, such as e.g. DCF Model, Free Cash Flow Value Potential, NAV, Peer Group Comparison or Sum of the Parts Model (see also <http://www.mmwarburg.de/disclaimer/disclaimer.htm#Valuation>). The result of this fundamental valuation is modified to take into consideration the analyst's assessment as regards the expected development of investor sentiment and its impact on the share price.

Independent of the applied valuation methods, there is the risk that the price target will not be met, for instance because of unforeseen changes in demand for the company's products, changes in management, technology, economic development, interest rate development, operating and/or material costs, competitive pressure, supervisory law, exchange rate, tax rate etc. For investments in foreign markets and instruments there are further risks, generally based on exchange rate changes or changes in political and social conditions.

This commentary reflects the opinion of the relevant author at the point in time of its compilation. A change in the fundamental factors underlying the valuation can mean that the valuation is subsequently no longer accurate. Whether, or in what time frame, an update of this commentary follows is not determined in advance.

Additional internal and organisational arrangements to prevent or to deal with conflicts of interest have been implemented. Among these are the spatial separation of Warburg Research GmbH from M.M.Warburg & CO (AG & Co.) KGaA and the creation of areas of confidentiality.
